Excursion at Melbourne Museum (approximately 2 hours)

Embark on a captivating journey at the state-of-the-art Road to Zero Education Complex, created by the Transport Accident Commission (TAC). This excursion, aimed at Years 9, 10, and VCE VM, offers a unique blend of interactive experiences and curriculum-linked education programs for Science and Health & PE.

Facilitated by knowledgeable road safety facilitators, excursions to Road to Zero comprise two parts:

- Experience Space (45 minutes) – An exploratory exhibition of 13 experiences.
- Learning Studio (75 minutes) – In the purpose-built learning hub, students undertake one of two curriculum-linked programs. For Health & PE excursions, students undertake the 'Getting the Message' activity where they create a public health campaign (video) about cycling or pedestrian safety. For Science excursions, students tackle the 'Road to Zero Physics Challenge' – a virtual reality experiment exploring the impacts of speed and friction on stopping distance, then apply their learning to a team-based challenge using touch table technology.

Teachers can download pre- and post-visit learning activities to enable class members to build knowledge before their excursion and expand their learning after the visit.

Road to Zero excursion requirements

To participate in the excursion to Road to Zero, it is a prerequisite that your class complete Activities 1 to 3 in the Safe Journeys Program Teacher Guide. These activities are the foundation to a successful visit to Road to Zero and will be referenced in the experiences at Melbourne Museum.
